

Cotemar consolidates its leadership in Social Responsibility: It received the IQNet SR10 recertification valid until 2029.

February 4, 2026.

Mexico City. - Following a rigorous external audit process conducted on both onshore and offshore operations, Cotemar officially received recertification of its Corporate Social Responsibility Management System, under the international standard IQNet SR10.

This distinction, awarded by the auditing firm AENOR, endorses the continuity and excellence of the company's practices for the 2026-2029 period. With this achievement, Cotemar reaffirms its position as the first company in Mexico, and the only one in the Oil & Gas sector, to have a certified Social Responsibility Management System, integrating this model as the central axis of its operations.

Under this vision of continuous improvement, the company has defined a roadmap focused on its institutional strengthening, which includes expanding the scope of this Management System to new lines of business. With this step, Cotemar seeks to consolidate a robust and cross-cutting governance model that permeates every process of the organization.

Furthermore, Cotemar reaffirms its leading position in the sector by announcing the start of the update to the 2024 version of the IQNet SR10 standard. This effort aims to respond to emerging global challenges and strengthen the integration of Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) criteria in strategic decision-making.

With over 47 years of experience as a strategic partner to the energy industry in Mexico, Cotemar demonstrates that its leadership lies not only in operational efficiency but also in its ability to generate shared and sustainable value. To this end, the company maintains the website sostenibilidad.cotemar.com.mx, where it transparently shares its actions and the results that support its commitment to sustainability and corporate social responsibility.
